THE LOGIC OF FORCE.

The policy of force is again before the country, with its anti-democratic consequences, for observation by the people and for an expression of their judgment upon the policy at the polis. the Riverside. The large manufacturing interests in the country made a pretence of hard in Virginia City. times four years ago to influence their employes to you for McKinley, which was the means of securing for the Republican ticket a much larger vote sham it would have succeeded in reselving. These men believing the rapthe production of manufactured yesterday, staples voted to secure a living which was reasonable in them to so vote.

They believed that Bryan's election would be in opposition to general prosperity and as a consequence would be in opposition to their personal interests. It was given out that all manner of quearthly results would come up an manufactaring industries should Eryan secure an election and the chief sufferers in the calamity that would sarely follow, would be the workers. The of jet of the pretence has become known through the formation of the most gigantic system of robber trusts that has made an appearance upon the Carson and, smallest but not least, earth.

The application of force a second time presents a problem in a two fold form which places the workers in a position to make a choice between starvation or robbery. The question as presented includes starvation if they vote for Bryan, and robbery by the tracts should they vote for McKinley. The question presents another phase which includes action at the polls that will abolish the conditions presented by voting for Bryan, or their indefinite continuance by voting for McKinley There is also presented in the force imposed by the trusts on their workers a choice that will be made by each worker in the land that goes to the polls and voter, which is included in the following language: "Choose ye this day whom ye will serve-God ane most effective organization that the Demecracy has had since the Civil War, and before it, has been secured in the present campaign by organizing clubs. The enthusiasm the clubs have succeeded in oreating is more than has made en appearance in any half dozen compaigns since 1848. The cam paign of 1900 is a record-breaker in a thanksmamong the people east of the Rickies. It is absolutely necessary to success, when reform is sought by the people against powerful opposition, that the work be entered upon in pedagory gave interesting talks and and conducted with determination, to secure the end sought, Lukewarm work will not succeed, as it admits defeat in its movements, which explains the position of the Republican party before the country from the time of its national convention to the present. It is not in the contention with a purpose to aucceed, as its conscience will not permit it to oppose the right which is presented by eleven from our high school. The and vicinity. the Democracy and other political organizations acting with it for the accomplishment of a great end which has for its object the perpetuation of the republic in its purity, against imperialism and its kindred evils, some of which have made an appearance to the disgrace of our civilization.

Noticeably is the system for starving the prople of Porto Rice, and its kindred system to enslave the people of the United States to trusts and organoluded in legalized and organized robbing of the great body of citizens who make a living by honest toil in the fields, in the mines, in the factories and in the many avenues occupied by them when engaged in industrial paraults.

RUSSIA BEATS THE GAME.

A few days ago an article appeared in the Journal upon the relation that Bussia would sustain to the powers in their final work in China. Close attention to movements by the nations who contemplate moving bodies of represented at the Orient was given to decessed relatives from the old cameso, the probable outcome of the game, once through W. Sanders. 018 lm that was made by the powers for a division of the old empire. More intended to secure for its special nee. Nevada State Journal The Bear's side bet is the value of Manchuria to Russia.

> A special telegram to the Journal appeared in yesterday morning's issue that confirmed the position taken in the article mentioned. Russia's late move, which was to move sway from the other powers, is the most astute move made in the game, as it wins to Russia Manchurla.

The only course there is remaining to the other powers is to turn eagle and go for the bawk and make him drop his prey, which is not probable they will do. Russia has outplayed the powers in the diplomatic game by moving away from them, which places the Bear in a position to play with China slone, which it will dereat by forcibly taking the stake it was playing to secure,
